Twenty-first Sunday in Ordinary Time

AUGUST 25, 2019

Isaiah 66:18-21; Hebrews 12:5-7,11-13;
Luke 13:22-30

Quite often, the theme of the Sunday Mass is summed up in the refrain for the Responsorial Psalm. Today the refrain is: "Go out to all the world, and tell the good news!" It is tough to keep the commandments of God. It is tough to stand up for morality in an indifferent world, or to stand for purity in a sex-crazy world, or to stand for peace in a violent world. It is tough to stand for integrity and honesty, for humility and charity.

But the toughest command of all (and the most neglected) is the command of God to go out to all the world and tell the Good News! We know that God loves all people. But people will know that God loves them only if we go out to tell them! We can't build enclaves around ourselves or close in on ourselves. We are responsible for the salvation of the world.

Today's first reading is from the last chapter in Isaiah. At the time this was written, much of Judaism had become smug, narrow-minded, and prejudiced against all non-Jews (Gentiles). The reading proclaims God's love for the "nations" (another word for Gentiles) such as Put, Lud, Mosoch, and Tubal. (These are roughly the table of nations around the Mediterranean Sea as listed in Genesis 10.)

In the Gospel, Jesus speaks of some who think that they are on the "inside" but who will find themselves on the "outside." They talk a good game of Christianity, but they fail to practice it. Perhaps it is because they have failed to consider their obligation to spread the Good News to their neighbor.

The second reading urges us not to be discouraged. We must not lose hope when we encounter difficulties. We should accept our crises as crosses, as our discipline from the Lord. Discipline may seem harsh, but it is for our own good. So straighten up and toughen out. Renew your zeal to be an instrument of God's Good News to the world.

I thought I'd take the opportunity to let everyone know what's been happening in the parish office these days. We did a bit of reorganization, so we can better serve the needs of the parish. Sometimes it takes some trial-and-error to identify the areas that need more attention, and hopefully we are moving closer to a smoothly running operation.

-Sue Holbrook has taken over the responsibilities as the Business Manager. Sue comes to us with decades of experience in accounting and books management and will assume the role of caring for the accounts of the Church, School and Parish Center, with the guidance of the Finance Council.

-Caitlin Kendrick is now the Parish Center Manager and Administrative Assistant for the Parish. She has been learning the intricacies of operating a Parish Center and has now stepped up to take on a larger and more responsible role, as well as assisting with various projects in the Parish Office.

-Krista Putman has joined the Parish Staff family, as an Administrative Assistant, and has hit the ground running in terms of learning the day-to-day operations of the Parish, School and Parish Center. She will also be working with Mike Holbrook in the Religious Education Department, assisting him with various administrative duties.

-Marcia Steinkamp has graciously volunteered her time to work in the parish office as the Communication Coordinator. This role has become essential to the overall operation of the Parish, its committees, councils, organizations and operations. We have already identified many areas in which Marcia will be able to assist us to communicate better. As we all know, there can never be too much communication!!

Additionally, we are pleased to report that the security cameras have been operating well, and we are identifying other areas where they might be needed. The ushers are expanding their roles in monitoring the church and property during Masses for everyone's safety and protection.

As we continue each day, to build the Kingdom of God, we work together – as a parish family – to identify, adapt and accomplish what we do for the greater glory of God!

Restored Order Informational Meeting

There will be a Restored Order of Sacraments Informational Meeting for any St. Francis School parent on August 25 at 4:00 p.m. in the Parish Center. Parents of children in 2nd and 3rd grade are encouraged to attend! For further information, please contact Mike Holbrook at 222-2898 or mholbrook@stfrancissolanus.com.
