Thirty-first Sunday in Ordinary Time

NOVEMBER 3, 2019

Wisdom 11:22—12:2;
2 Thessalonians 1:11—2:2; Luke 19:1-10

In God's eyes, the entire universe is but a speck of dust. Strangely, however, God cares deeply for everything he has made. He knows each one of us. He loves us individually. He cares for the least significant of us. His almighty power is shown most perfectly in his loving care for the little things.

The Gospel tells us of a "little man" named Zacchaeus. He was short in height and small in virtue. He climbed a sycamore tree to see Jesus pass by in Jericho. Jesus noticed him, invited him to come down, and said that he would dine at Zacchaeus' house! Immediately, Zacchaeus became tall in righteousness because of the mercy of the Lord.

As we approach the end of "Ordinary Time" and the beginning of Advent, our second reading concentrates on the end of the world and the Second Coming of Christ. This world will end. Maybe today. Maybe tomorrow. Christ will come in glory. No one knows when this will happen.

The "signs" of the end took place before the end of the first century; there are no more signs. We should, therefore, live each day as if it is going to be our last day on earth. Don't be frightened, however. Remember the mercy of the Lord. But be sober and watchful. Pray that you may always be ready for the Lord to come.

I'm sure that we're acutely aware of the need for priests and religious sisters and brothers in the Church today. Even non-Catholics have remarked about that to me for years. That said, I also believe that it is up to everyone to encourage our youth to consider a vocation to the priesthood or religious life. But it's also up to families to provide an atmosphere that is conducive to such vocations. Since this is the beginning of National Vocations Awareness Week, I offer you the following which is provided by the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops (USCCB):

National Vocations Awareness Week

As Catholics, we firmly believe that God has a plan for our lives! He calls some to marriage, some to the priesthood, and others to religious life. Some remain as generous single people. Fully living our own vocations—and teaching young people how to discern God's call—is a serious duty, but also a joyful one. Today begins National Vocation Awareness Week. During this week, please pray about how God is calling you to live your vocation more deeply. Encourage the young people in your life—children, grandchildren, students, and friends—to be open if God calls them to priesthood or consecrated life.

Teach Your Children to Use GPS

After Mass today, have a conversation with your children, asking, "What do you want to be when you grow up?" After a few moments of discussion, ask, "Who do you think God wants you to be when you grow up?" Emphasize to your children that God has a specific plan in mind for them, and that following God's plan is the surest way to happiness. Every life decision—which college to attend, whom to date, which job to pursue, whether to enter seminary, whom to marry—should be undertaken only after praying for God's guidance. In other words, encourage kids to navigate life using GPS—God's Positioning System.

How Parents Can Nurture Vocations

Set an example. Model discipleship and a loving marriage to your children.

Seek role models. Befriend priests, sisters, and brothers and invite them to your home.

Look to scripture. Read and discuss the Bible stories of Mary's response to God (Luke 1:26-39), and Jesus calling the Apostles (Mt 4:18-22).

Pray for the future. Pray aloud that your children will follow Jesus and remain open to holy marriage, priesthood, and religious life.

If your child does express interest in the priesthood or religious life, be supportive. The best thing you can say is, "Whatever God wants for you, I want for you, too. Just keep praying to discover His will for your life."

Catholicism: The Pivotal Players

St. Augustine and St. Benedict

This is a multi-part series that illumines a handful of saints, artists, mystics, and scholars who not only shaped the life of the Church, but changed the course of western civilization. This short study focuses on two incredible saints from the fourth and fifth centuries:

St. Augustine of Hippo and St. Benedict of Nursia.

St. Augustine, the teacher, is possibly the best example of how faith in Christ changed a person. St. Benedict, the Monk, contributed more to saving western Christian culture than anyone else.

Join Bishop Robert Barron as he traces the lives and contributions of these two "pivotal" saints.

St. Augustine: November 19 and December 3

St. Benedict: December 10 and 17

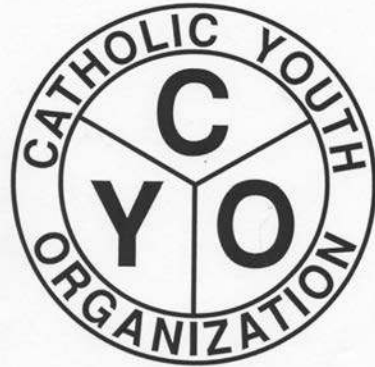

All meeting dates are in the South Solanus Hall from 6:30 p.m. – 8:00 p.m.

Ladies of Charity

Would you like to be part of a group whose motto is "To Serve rather than be served, in humility, simplicity, and charity"? Join the Ladies of Charity, founded by St. Vincent de Paul in France in 1617, and established in Quincy in 1932.

We especially need additional volunteers for counter assistance and volunteers to sort donated clothing and items. Also needed are volunteers in the food pantry. Our hours are Mondays and Fridays, 9:00-11:45 and 1:00-2:45. Volunteers also work on Tuesdays, from about 9:00-noon. Do you have two or three hours per week to devote to this worthwhile activity? Find out if volunteering in this Vincentian ministry is a good fit for you by calling Jane Haas, 217-257-0533, for more information, or to take a tour of the facilities.
